About Us

Established in the year 1996, VHS Mechatronics Services was founded with the goal of bringing constant value to the CNC based machining equipment industry. Being an ISO 9001:2000 certified company by TUV Suddeutschland, we assure our clients the highest quality of consistent work. We are committed to help, define and resolve technical & manufacturing issues to our clients with cost-effective solutions.

Modernisation is the strength of our organisation for sustained success in the field of CNC Machine building and tools in India. We use technologically proven machine elements which are available worldwide and adopt the most modern and productive cutting edge technology. Our special purpose CNC machines cater to the unique component production that requires Multi axes simultaneous interpolation.

Our company is promoted by group of talented enterpreneurs who have extensive experience in CNC based machining equipment industry. We train our talented associates on regular basis to maintain the state of the art in manufacturing techniques and systems.
