About Us

“Experimentation did not fail me. It was kind to have taught me, the number of ways in which things don’t work.” - V. V. Ramana

A man high on spirit, with an inherently burning need to showcase the subjects in the most beautiful manner – to present it to the beauty beholder – he is dedicated to producing photographs and videos with precision. He is paranoid about the quality conscience in the work he does. V. V. Ramana is today one of the premier league photographers in the country. Within the professional fraternity, he is known more for his technical expending. Despite the average life of technology in photography domain getting bleak, he believes in exploring the potential of each technical artifact available in the market. He incessantly updates his business infrastructure, apart from continuously striving to find innovative ways of using technology.

To expand the reach of his services, he established Villart Photography, in the year 1990, with the then latest equipment. His appetite to try new technology has grown ever since. Today, Villart Photography is one of the most respected studios in all its business lines. With a growing team, 50 Professionals as on date, Villart Photography has an experience of shooting 1300 Weddings, 2200 Fashion assignments and 1,50,000 Portraits, and is fast expanding in its industry. Most of his clients are highly networked, and are also high net-worth individuals and families.
